Readings for Sunday, July 20, 2025

Genesis 18:1-10a
Psalm 15:2-3, 3-4, 5 (1a)
Colossians 1:24-28
Luke 10:38-42

While Mary is highlighted as choosing the "better part," the passage doesn't condemn Martha's actions entirely. Catholic commentary says the Church recognizes the importance of both contemplation and action in the Christian life. Martha's example reminds us to be mindful of our obligations and to serve others, but always with a heart rooted in God.

The Invitation

Have you been active in the church? If so, have you taken time to nourish your relationship with God? Take Jesus's invitation to sit quietly and allow your relationship with God to flourish.
Or have you been contemplating your return to "active duty" to the church? Take this open invitation to share your gifts with us. Ask how can I get involved, yet remember, this call is to find balance between action and contemplation, ensuring that your service is grounded in love and devotion to God.

*In his Apostolic Exhortation, Laudete Deum, Pope Francis gives an urgent call to tackle the climate crisis recognizing that time is running out. Irreversible damage has already been done. In this letter Pope Francis states that the climate crisis is real and cannot be denied. It is caused by human activity.

Pope's Monthly Intention for July:

For formation in discernment

Let us pray that we might again learn how to discern, to know how to choose paths of life, and reject everything that leads us away from Christ and the Gospel.

You cannot follow both Christ and the cruelty of kings. A leader who mocks the weak, exalts himself, and preys on the innocent is not sent by God. He is sent to test you. And many are failing. -Pope Leo XIV

Helen Thurlow has expressed her intention to me that she will be leaving her position of employment here to pursue other interests. She says her last day here could be as soon as August 7. I thank Helen for her work here, for sharing her gifts as both a Coordinator of Religious Education and as Administrative Assistant. I wish her well in all her future endeavors. May God bless her in her future ministry.

Now we begin the task of finding two people to be our Administrative Assistant and our Religious Education Coordinator. If you or someone you know is interested in one or both positions please let me know as soon as possible.

Thank you to Mother Mary of the Angels for donating the 2 drawer filing cabinet. Blessings on your generosity.

Saint Vincent de Paul—You can always donate food items to St. Vincent de Paul. Their donation hamper is located in the entrance of the Church, across from the Rest Room.

EVANGELIZATION—Pope Paul VI, whose message "Evangelii Nuntiandi (On Evangelization in the Modern World) says that evangelizing means bringing the Good News of Jesus into every human situation and seeking to convert individuals and society by the divine power of the Gospel itself. At its essence are the proclamation of salvation in Jesus Christ and the response of a person in faith, which are both works of the Spirit of God.

Role of Laity—Laypeople in particular, play a crucial role in evangelization, as they are often the Church's presence in the world, especially in secular settings.

Role of Clergy—While the laity has the primary responsibility for evangelization, ordained clergy play a vital role in equipping and guiding the laity in their evangelizing efforts.

In the Catholic Church, the World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly will be celebrated on Sunday, July 27, 2025, which is the fourth Sunday of July. This is the Sunday closest to the feast of Sts. Joachim and Ann, the parents of Mary and therefore the grandparents of Jesus. This day is meant to be a celebration of the wisdom and contributions of grandparents and the elderly, and to promote intergenerational connections. The theme for 2025 is "Blessed are those who have not lost hope" (cf Sir. 14:2)
